Husch Blackwell's Simon and Pasha Appointed to Missouri Bar Special Committee

Husch Blackwell is pleased to announce that Kansas City Office Managing Partner Jeff Simon and St. Louis-based associate Mohsen Pasha have been appointed to The Missouri Bar's newly commissioned Special Committee on Lawyers of Color in the Profession.

Simon is a member of the Husch Blackwell's Technology, Manufacturing & Transportation industry group and Pasha is a member of the firm's Healthcare, Life Sciences & Education industry group. They are part of the 16-member committee that includes lawyers, judges and law professors. The group will review programs and initiatives of The Missouri Bar, law firms, and other state and bar associations and recommend courses of action for The Missouri Bar to take within the next two years to help increase the retention, promotion, and advancement of minority lawyers in the state.
