OVERVIEW

As a recognized and trusted deal-maker, Greg has played a critical role in some of the biggest property transactions in the Midwest.

Greg's legal insights and multifaceted understanding of real estate markets were indispensable in these large-scale developments. He's known for his work with major league stadium deals and is consistently recognized as one of the top lawyers in his field.

Greg primarily works with real estate developers on incentivized development, helping private developers negotiate assistance through public incentives, such as the use of capitalized sales or real estate taxes, tax credits, retention of earnings tax credits and capital investment credits. He has represented parties in some of the most significant redevelopment projects in the St. Louis region. He also counsels public and private clients in all facets of real estate transactions, including corporate relocations, public infrastructure projects and public-private partnerships.

He attributes much of his success working on such significant deals to having a great team. For Greg, the practice of law is exciting, with no two days exactly alike. He has been with the firm since 1981

"Gregory has an incredible business mind and is an excellent advisor to bounce ideas off."

Community Leadership

Greg serves his community in leadership positions with regional business organizations. But where the citizens of St. Louis really see his impact is with the professional sports teams he has helped bring to the St. Louis area and the number of jobs he has helped to create by working on large-scale real estate developments. He feels blessed to have had such opportunities to make a positive difference in his hometown.
