

Blake Rooney

CHIEF INFORMATION OFFICER

KANSAS CITY, MOPHONE: 816.983.8000

OVERVIEW

Blake delivers cutting-edge data security to clients, attorneys and staff.

Blake works with the firm's innovation team to deliver forward-thinking technology that increases efficiency, improves the client experience, and—above all—protects client privacy. He and his team collaborate with like-minded vendors, develop in-house data science and AI tools, and offer data security training to colleagues.

With more than a decade of experience as a director of legal information technology, Blake understands how the firm's people, process, and technology can most effectively benefit clients. His guiding principle is to provide technology and IT support that allow attorneys and other Husch Blackwell professionals to work with security, efficiency, and flexibility, whether in the office, the courtroom, or at home.
