

Jennifer B. Rogers

PARALEGAL

AUSTIN, TX

PHONE: 512.479.1142

EMAIL: JEN.ROGERS@HUSCHBLACKWELL.COM

OVERVIEW

A Certified Paralegal, Jennifer assists attorneys and clients with end-to-end real estate issues in the Energy & Natural Resources industry.

Jennifer facilitates complex regulatory matters for clients and attorneys, providing document and case management. An accomplished researcher with a broad knowledge of legal software, she handles filings in both state and federal court. She collaborates with a range of state and federal entities including:

- Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC)
- U.S. Energy Information Administration (EIA)
- State Office of Administrative Hearings
- Texas Railroad Commission
- Public Utility Commission of Texas
- Texas State Comptroller
- Texas Secretary of State

She also has extensive experience assisting on regulatory and litigation matters up to the level of the Texas Supreme Court, including attendance and attorney support at mediations, arbitrations, district court hearings, and federal bench and jury trials as well as appellate proceedings. Additionally, Jennifer has

Industry

Energy & Natural Resources

Service

Corporate Real Estate

HUSCH BLACKWELL

written and presented Continuing Legal Education materials on paralegal organizational skills and trial preparation.

Education

- M.H.R.M., Colorado State University
 - with honors
- B.G.S., University of Kansas
- A.A.S., Austin Community College
 - with honors
 - paralegal studies
- Certified Paralegal, National Association of Legal Assistants (NALA)

2023 Pro Bono Contributor