OVERVIEW

Attorneys count on Julie to oversee the details of legal matters in order to move client matters forward.

In a lengthy paralegal career, Julie has collaborated with legal teams at all phases of litigation from discovery through appeal in state and federal courts. She has facilitated matters for clients across industries, assisting with intellectual property litigation, general litigation, and toxic tort, environmental, and labor and employment issues. Julie has extensive in-house and law firm experience and used her knowledge to streamline document retention and compliance concerns. Clients and legal teams appreciate her broad experience and knowledge of corporate policies, court document filings, research and analysis, and witness and court preparation, among other support responsibilities.

Julie is recognized for her ability to systemize information using technology and best practices, for client time efficiency and cost-savings. What she enjoys most about taking care of the details is knowing that – with every filing, every met deadline, every call, every edit on a contract – she is contributing to a client's success.
