OVERVIEW

A penchant for analysis drove Annorah to the legal profession.

In addition to her love for research, writing and lifelong learning, Annorah discovered during her combined study of business administration and economics that she really enjoyed watching businesses grow. She knew she wanted to be a part of that kind of excitement.

The idea of being a corporate attorney and helping entrepreneurs succeed was especially appealing to Annorah. She has learned that a law firm with multiple layers of resources allows attorneys to see how they can use their particular knowledge to assist enterprises with startup, growth and expansion to new areas – and see positive outcomes as a result.
