OVERVIEW

Brandy is a paralegal assistant with an eye for detail and a gift for organization.

Brandy first entered the legal world as a reception and conference coordinator for the firm. With a growing interest in the industry, she soon realized that paralegal work was an opportunity that would rely on many of the same skills as event planning: organization, working out details, and making sure that everything is lined up perfectly. Brandy has always loved knowing that she's someone people can rely on to take care of every detail, and she brings that same enthusiasm and dedication to her paralegal work.

Today, Brandy supports the Energy & Natural Resources team, helping clients develop and invest in wind, solar and storage projects. She gathers information from current landowners, organizes and tracks acquisition documents, and assembles files, ensuring that attorneys have ready access to all details.

With a passion for renewable energy, Brandy finds it truly rewarding to help clients build the projects that will meet the world's future energy needs.
