

INTERNATIONAL TAX

Husch Blackwell international tax law attorneys guide clients in navigating the additional layers of tax law that accompany international operations. Working with foreign counsel when needed, we deliver innovative tax-advantaged strategies to multinational corporations, U.S. companies, private equity firms, licensors/licensees, and individuals.

Our international tax law attorneys have interpreted tax treaties, restructured subsidiaries, and formed branches and subsidiaries. We have long-standing relationships with not only the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), but also tax authorities in selected foreign countries.

Our guidance to clients on international tax law includes:

Entity classification

Repatriation

Structuring hybrid debt and other securities transactions

Transfer pricing

Foreign tax credit planning

Financial products

Subpart F planning

Foreign acquisition of U.S.-based real estate
